Almighty God, our heavenly Father, we come to you this morning in deepest humility; asking your blessings on these 48 frail humans as they meet to make the laws that will govern the citizens of Florida. Help them to keep their laws consistent with thy teachings as expressed in the Ten Commandments. Give them the courage to stand for that which is right and the intelligence to know the difference between the sinful desires of man and the will of God. Give them the compassion and understanding to forgive those who would condemn them for opposing that which is wrong. All these things we ask in thy blessed name and for thy sake. Amen.

On motion by Senator Thomas, the following communication and conclusion from a 32 page staff report for the Subcommittee on Banking of the Interim Legislative Committee on Financial Institutions was ordered spread upon the pages of the Journal:

The Honorable John E. Mathews
President of the Senate
Capitol

May 30, 1969

Dear President Mathews:

The Interim Legislative Committee on Financial Institutions, of which I was chairman, recommended changes in the statutes dealing with credit unions which has been accomplished by this Legislature.

It also concurred in the recommendation of a recodification of the statutes dealing with State savings and loans and such legislation has passed the Legislature.

A Subcommittee on Banking dealt with commercial banking and specifically with branch banking.

In a 32-page report, copy of which is attached, the Subcommittee concluded by not recommending branch banking in Florida and advised that they could not advocate a major change in our banking system in the face of the evidence available to the Subcommittee.

Respectfully submitted,
JERRY THOMAS

This staff report is issued solely as a basis for consideration by the Committee. The material used is from what we consider very reliable sources. A complete bibliography is not included since it would run several pages in length. Publications of the U. S. Government, The Federal Reserve Board, the banking industry, and many daily papers are included in material studied. All of the material is available through various sources for any personal study.

The primary object of any legislative inquiry is the determination of the facts, as far as possible, and how the facts affect the State of Florida.

The historical effect may to some extent be judged by the use of comparisons with other states in the Federal Union. From the facts supplied in this report a sober, conservative conclusion would be that Florida has fared extremely well in comparison with other states with its present banking system. The growth pattern in population, industry and commercial enterprise are phenomenal. One would be hard put to advocate any major change in the face of the evidence.

Senator Friday, chairman of the Committee on Rules and Calendar, announced that in setting the Special Order for the remainder of this session, if there is not a House Bill similar in nature to the Senate bill being requested to be placed on Special Order, the Committee on Rules and Calendar would not place that Senate bill on Special Order.

The Committee on Rules and Calendar referred the following local bills to the Local Calendar: House Bills 2107, 2108, 2468, 2469, 2470, 2471, 2472, 2477, 2486, 2490, 2491, 2492, 2493, 2494, 2495, 2527, 2528, 2531, 2539, 2540, 2542, 2547, 2550, 2551, 2553, 2554, 2563, 2564, 2567, 2570, 2571, 2574, 2581, 2582, 2584, 2586, 2587, 2591, 2592, 2593, 2594, 2602, 2604 and 2605.

I am directed to inform the Senate that the House of Representatives has passed with amendments—

By Senator Sayler—

SB 35—A bill to be entitled An act relating to equalization of tax assessments; amending section 193.25, Florida Statutes, to delete reference to specified days when county commissioners shall sit to hear final complaints on assessments; specifying that only owners of property the value of which was changed or fixed by board or assessor may be heard at final hearings.

On page 1, line 15, strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following: Section 1. Section 193.25, Florida Statutes (1967), is amended to read as follows:

(Substantial rewording of section. See section 193.25, F.S. (1967) for present wording)

(b) The completed petition shall be filed with the clerk of the governing body of the county who shall acknowledge receipt thereof and furnish a copy thereof to the assessor.

(c) Each petition shall state the approximate time anticipated by the taxpayer to present and argue his petition before the board.

(d) Such petition may be filed at any time during the taxable year prior to July 15.

Section 2. Section 193.26, Florida Statutes (1967) is amended to read as follows:

The clerk of the governing body of the county may act as clerk of the board of tax adjustment.*

(2) The board of tax adjustment [equalization] shall adjust [equalize] the assessment roll, shall hear complaints against individual assessments, shall hear complaints against denials of homestead exemption by the tax assessor, and shall hear applications for exemptions from ad valorem taxation.

(1) The tax assessor shall present to the board of tax adjustment [equalization] each of the assessment rolls for the county on the third Monday in July. At that time, the board shall review each roll to insure that all property is properly assessed at just value, that no portion of any property is improperly exempted, and shall make such adjustments in assessments and exemptions as are necessary to insure conformity with the law.

(2) The chairman of the board shall insure that whenever any assessment is changed that the person to whom such property is taxed is promptly notified in essentially the same manner as is set out in 193.25(2). In addition, notice of all such changes shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation within the county, or if no such newspaper be published within the county, notice shall be placed on the courthouse door and two (2) other prominent places within the county. Such notice shall list each property (briefly described) the assessment of which has been changed, the assessed value assigned by the board of tax adjustment [equalization] and the person to whom such property is taxed.

193.2701 Hearing of complaints.—

(1) The board of tax adjustment [equalization] shall meet no later than the second Monday in September for the purpose of hearing complaints relating to assessments and relating to homestead exemptions, as provided for under section 192.19, Florida Statutes (1967), and shall remain in session from day to day until all such complaints are heard.

(2) The clerk of the governing body of the county shall prepare a schedule of appearances before the board based on petitions timely filed with him. He shall notify each petitioner of the scheduled time of his appearance no less than five (5) calendar days prior to the day of such scheduled appearance. No petitioner shall be required to wait for more than two (2) hours from the scheduled time and if his petition is not heard in that time his petition shall be taken as admitted.

(3) Petitioners before the board may be represented by an attorney, may present testimony and other evidence. The tax assessor may be represented by an attorney in defending his assessment, may present testimony and other evidence. The tax assessor, each petitioner, and all witnesses may be requested to testify under oath as administered by the chairman of the board of tax adjustment [equalization]. Hearings shall be conducted informally, but either the petitioner or the tax assessor may require that a verbatim record of the proceedings be made and require proof of any documentary evidence presented.

(4) The board is hereby authorized to appoint special masters for the purpose of taking testimony and making recommendations to the board, provided such special masters are not elected or appointed officials, or employees of the county.

(5) In each case, except where a complaint is withdrawn by the petitioner or is acknowledged as correct by the tax assessor, the board of tax adjustment [equalization] shall render a decision. All such decisions shall be issued within twenty (20) calendar days of the last day the board is in session under this section. No county nor municipality may create nor provide for any board, agency or officer to hear complaints relating to assessments or exemptions relating to ad valorem taxation except as provided for in this section.

193.2702 Review of assessment by arbitration.—

If any taxpayer is dissatisfied with the action of the board, he may, within twenty (20) days from the issuance of the decision, give notice to the board that he demands an arbitration, giving at the same time the name of his arbitrator. The board shall name its arbitrator within ten (10) days thereafter and these arbitrators shall select a third, a majority of whom shall fix the assessments and the property on which such taxpayer shall pay taxes. Such decision shall include a finding of facts and shall be in writing, and shall be final unless overturned by a court of competent jurisdiction. The arbitrators shall render their decision within ten (10) days from the date of the naming of the arbitrator by the board unless all arbitrators agree to a later time. In the event the two (2) arbitrators provided for in this paragraph fail to name a third within twenty (20) days after their appointment, he shall, upon petition asserting such facts, be named by a circuit judge of that county.

The circuit courts shall have exclusive original jurisdiction in law of all matters relating to property taxation. Venue shall be in that county wherein the property shall be located. The court may refuse jurisdiction in any case wherein the plaintiff is contesting the assessment of any tax or toll unless the plaintiff shall tender into the court and file with the complaint the full amount of any such tax or toll which he shall admit to be legal and due by him, or file with the complaint a receipt showing payment of the same prior to institution of the suit.

Section 7. Section 196.03, Florida Statutes (1967), is amended to read as follows:

(Substantial rewording of section. See action 196.03, Florida Statutes (1967), for present wording.)

(1) The plaintiff in any tax suit shall be the taxpayer contesting the assessment of any tax or toll, the payment of which he is responsible under the law.

(2) In any case contesting the assessment of any tax on property, the assessor of such tax shall be the party defendant.

(3) In any suit involving the collection of any tax on property, as well as questions relating to tax certificates or tax deeds, the tax collector charged under the law with collecting such tax shall be the defendant.

(4) In any suit involving a tax or toll, other than an ad valorem tax on property, the tax collector charged under the law with collecting such tax shall be defendant; provided, however, this paragraph shall not apply in any instance wherein general law provides for some other person to be the party defendant.

(5) In any suit in which the assessment of any tax or toll, or any collection of any tax, any tax certificate or any tax deed is contested on the ground that it is contrary to the Constitution of this state, the official of the state government responsible for overall supervision of the assessment and collection of such tax shall be made a party defendant of such suit. Any such suit shall be brought in that county having venue under 196.01, or where that is inapplicable, in the circuit court of Leon County.

Section 8. Section 196.04, Florida Statutes (1967), is amended to read as follows:

(Substantial rewording of section. See section 196.04, Florida Statutes (1967), for present wording.)

196.04 Costs; attorney's fees; interest for unpaid taxes.—

(1) In any suit involving the assessment or collection of any tax, the court shall assess all costs.

(2) In the event that the court shall determine that any taxpayer plaintiff shall be liable under the law for a greater tax than admitted, as provided for under 196.01, the court shall assess against the difference between that amount of tax admitted and the amount determined to be property due by the court, interest at the rate of six per cent (6%) per annum.

Section 9. Section 193.28 and 196.14, Florida Statutes (1967), and any other general, local or special act, law or ordinance inconsistent with any provision of this act is hereby repealed.

Section 10. It is declared to be the legislative intent that, if any section, subsection, sentence, clause, or provision of this act is held invalid, the remainder of the act shall not be affected.

Section 11. This act shall take effect on 1 January 1970, and shall apply to the 1970 assessment rolls.

Amendment 2—

In Title, on page 1, line 4, strike the title and insert the following: An act relating to ad valorem taxation; creating a board of adjustment to hear complaints relating to assessments; providing for review of the assessment rolls; requiring notice to taxpayers in certain cases; providing procedure for hearing; providing for review by arbitration; providing for jurisdiction in tax cases to be in circuit court at law; providing for assessment of costs, fees and interest in such cases; amending chapters 192 and 196, Florida Statutes (1967); repealing provisions in conflict herewith; providing an effective date.

Senator McClain arose to a point of privilege of the Senate and addressed the Body as follows:

Mr. President and fellow Senators, it is with great reluctance that I impose upon your time for just a few moments this morning, and it is with great reluctance that I make the remarks that I make, because they pertain to the Chief Executive of the State of Florida.

However, there comes a time when I think the facts should be told as they are and I am going to attempt to do this. I believe the people are entitled to know whether our Chief Executive is a white knight on a white charger, a paragon of virtue, or whether he carries a Bible in one hand and a predatory political gig in the other.

I say it is the latter, for reasons which I will shortly define.

First, I want to comment on the Senate.

I have been privileged to be admitted to the legal profession for 45 years, this year. Half of that time has been spent in universities, the remainder of it in the practice of law.

I have been associated with many organizations; the American Bar, the American Law Institute, the American Judicature Society. I have been in the railroad industry for ten years and various kinds of civic and governmental organizations.

I have never been associated with a group of men more dedicated, hard working and devoted, in my humble judgment, to the public interest than the people who compose the Florida State Senate at the present time.

Most of these men are working from ten to eighteen hours a day and are getting very little sleep. This has been going on for many, many days, as all of you know.

Therefore I resent, and I think all of us should resent and the people of Florida should resent, the castigation and flagellation by the Chief Executive of the Senate and of the Legislature, for that matter, for not doing their duty and being a do-nothing Legislature.

I want to call you back to the beginning of the session when the Chief Executive addressed a joint session of the House and the Senate.

You will remember he issued and uttered honeyed words, dripping with conciliatory tones and a desire to help. He assured us that he appreciated the tremendous work that had gone on in the preliminary plans for reorganization and that we not be afraid, he would be with us and walk through the shadow of the Valley of Death, if necessary.

Alas and alack, that was the last we saw of him except for the constant and incessant castigation of this body, of the legislative body for its failures, according to his sights.

Perhaps he was too busy putting his hand in that dike, which he said he must do to keep the flood waters of Florida, flagellated by the Cabinet, from washing away the entire fortunes of the State.

However, some people with 20/20 vision see a clear outline, not of the hand in the dike, but of a jar, either a cookie jar or a political jar into which the hand is thrust.

Now he has charged the Legislature with doing nothing. He has attacked us, as I say, virtually incessantly.

Now he has said the audit of his office was a "political fairy tale," "political tripe," and said that he would not take it. Apparently he holds with the Stuart kings of England that the king can do no wrong. He believes that the people will accept the answer that $155,000 unauthorized expenditures were expended for Christmas cards or Hallowe'en treats.

In the words of Shakespeare, "Methinks thou protesteth too much."

In the words of north Georgia, in the 600 population town in which I was raised, "A hit dog always hollers," or "Where there is so much smoke, there must be fire."

Now, with adjournment a week away, I represent to you and I do not think it can be successfully challenged, he has not offered one single iota of legislation or of a suggestion for a legislative program, while constantly and incessantly flagellating, castigating and villifying the Legislature for not having a program, when we have worked, as I said, before and during the session the best we could and I think we have produced some very good results.

The reason he does not like the reorganization program is because it does not expand and promote his own personal powers.

Now, before I close, I want to take the time to read to you about the expenditure of $6,572.46, of which I have photostatic copies on the desk, which were supposed to be relative to and expended for the purpose of the Governor's Office developing a legislative program.

I won't take your time except to read one contract, and I think it exemplifies what I am talking about.

Under date of February 1, 1969, the following contract was entered into:

"Whereas the Governor of the State of Florida, herein called the Governor's Office, desires to retain the services of an experienced and qualified individual to join in the association with the Governor's Office for the purpose of providing assistance in developing a comprehensive legislative program for the State of Florida as set out herein, and

"Whereas Timothy Johnston,"—

I don't know Timothy and I haven't seen him,

"is qualified by reason of his experience and training, is capable of providing such services as may be required for the Governor's Office,

"Now, therefore, witness that

"1. The Governor's Office has hereby engaged and retained the services of Timothy Johnston as a consultant in the Governor's Office, subject to the terms and conditions set out.

"2. Duties shall be as follows:

"A. Assist such members of the staff as may be necessary with the organization of a program to develop a comprehensive legislative plan for the State of Florida,

"B. Review and code such bills as may be appropriate to this program,

"C. Assist with the review and preparation of recommendations pertaining to appropriate action by the Governor on matters pertaining to the legislative program.

"3. In consideration for such services the Governor's Office agrees to pay the sum of $1,700, in two equal installments of $850 each, upon the submission of appropriate invoices.

"4. This contract shall take effect February 1, 1969, and shall expire March 31, 1969, unless otherwise terminated by mutual agreement."

I have the vouchers on which the $1,700 was paid out. This carries the signature, the photostatic signature of the Governor of this State. That is the contract.

I have seen nothing from Timothy. Perhaps Timothy has a program. If he does have a program, or the Governor has a program, they have been very well concealed.

I have three additional vouchers expended. I will not take time to list the names of the individuals, but they were for legislative services, so that the total comes, as I said at first, to $6,572.46.

Now, I don't begrudge the expenditure of this money. It would be worth $66,000, had he had a program, an intelligent, constructive program.

But this is a matter of principle. He elected to withdraw, to have nothing to do with the Legislature except to castigate it, and insult, in this case, and criticize the legislature as a do-nothing legislature.

In conclusion, I just want to say one thing from the penetrating proverbs of King Solomon, "Confidence in an unfaithful man is like a broken tooth or a foot that is disjointed," and,

lastly, "Lay on, MacDuff, and damn ye he who cries first enough."

Thank you.

On motion by Senator Poston, the foregoing remarks were ordered spread upon the Journal.

THE CONFERENCE COMMITTEE ON APPROPRIATIONS OFFERED THE FOLLOWING AMENDMENT TO
COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE FOR SENATE BILL NO. 1192:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following in lieu thereof:

Section 1. The moneys in the following items are appropriated from the named funds for the 1969-70 fiscal year to the state agency indicated, as the amounts to be used to pay the salaries and other expenditures of the named agencies, and are in lieu of all moneys appropriated for these purposes in the indicated section of the Florida Statutes, except that if additional moneys are needed to meet the requirements of a continuing appropriation of a trust fund and additional moneys are available in the named trust fund, the state planning and budget commission is authorized to approve the expenditure of additional, available moneys in such trust fund in such amount(s) as may be necessary to meet such deficiency. Appropriations made in items 144a and 150-169, 176b-211, and 227-241, to the board of commissioners of state institutions and in items 799, 799a and 808-921, to the board of regents may be transferred notwithstanding the provisions of section 282.061, F. S., to another institution within the same division or between institutions of higher learning with the approval of the state planning and budget commission upon its determination that such transfers are necessary because of transfers of inmates or patients from one institution to another, because of shifts in the number of full-time equivalent students budgeted at each institution, or for other justifiable reasons, in order to adequately provide the necessary services at each institution which the state planning and budget commission determines to be in the best interest of the state; provided, however, the total annual appropriation in this section to any institution may not be increased or decreased by more than twenty per cent as a result of such transfers.

Appropriations made in items 144a and 150-169 to the board of commissioners of state institutions may be transferred notwithstanding the provisions of section 282.061, F. S., to be used for community mental health programs authorized by the legislature upon recommendation of the division director and with the approval of the state planning and budget commission, upon its determination that such transfers are in the best interest of the state; provided, however, the total amount which may be transferred pursuant to this provision shall not exceed ten per cent of the total appropriations made in items 150-169. Appropriations made in items 176b-211 to the board of commissioners of state institutions may be transferred notwithstanding the provisions of section 282.061, F. S., to be used for community mental retardation programs authorized by the legislature, upon recommendation of the division director and with the approval of the state planning and budget commission, upon its determination that such transfers are in the best interest of the state; provided, however, the total amount which may be transferred pursuant to this provision shall not exceed ten per cent of the total appropriation in items 176b-211.
